a printed board having an electronic component mounted thereon;
a main cover comprising a frame and a planar portion for accommodating therein the printed board;
a cover member fixed to the main cover and covering the printed board; the main cover having at least one opening in a predetermined region of the planar portion thereof in opposed relation to the electronic component to prevent interference with the electronic component; and at least one plate member fixed to close the opening of the main cover and to cover a part of the planar portion of the main cover, wherein the main cover also has a recess formed outside the predetermined region, and the plate member has an outer surface at substantially the same level as an outer surface of the main cover, the plate member having a smaller thickness than the planar portion of the main cover[.] :

the main cover also having another opening to prevent interference with the electronic component, on which another opening is closed with another plate member, and the main cover and the cover member each having a step in an outer surface thereof, surrounding the opening and having a depth substantially equal to the thickness of the plate member.

CANCEL CLAIM 3:

AMEND CLAIM 7 AS FOLLOWS:

7. (Currently Amended) A PC card comprising:

a main cover comprising a frame and a planar portion for accommodating therein the printed board;

a cover member fixed to the main cover and covering the printed board;

the main cover having two or more openings in a predetermined region of the planar portion thereof in opposed relation to the electronic component to prevent interference with the electronic component; and a plate member fixed to close the openings of the main cover and covering a part of the planar portion of the main cover, and a recess formed outside the predetermined region, the plate member having an outer surface at substantially the same level as an outer surface of the main cover, the plate member having a smaller thickness than the planar portion of the main cover, the main cover also having another opening to prevent interference with the electronic component, on which another opening is closed with another plate member, and the main cover and the cover member each having a step in an outer surface thereof, surrounding the opening and having a depth substantially equal to the thickness of the plate member, and the relationship between the distance from the printed board to a surface of the electronic component, the distance from the print board to an inner surface of the main cover, and the distance from the print board to the plate member is  $h_1 \leq h < h_2$ .

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 5-7(Renumbered 1-4) are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: In response to remarks and claim amendments authorized by Applicant's Representative during an Interview on 03/02/2007, and, upon conclusion of a comprehensive search of the pertinent prior art, the Office indicates that the claims, as amended, are allowable.

Regarding independent claims 1 and 7, patentability exists, at least in part, with the features of the main cover also having another opening to prevent interference with the electronic component, on which another opening is closed with another plate member, and the main cover and the cover member each having a step in an outer surface thereof, surrounding the opening and having a depth substantially equal to the thickness of the plate member.

The prior art, taken alone, or, in combination does not fairly teach or suggest at least neither of the limitations above, nor, all of the limitations arranged and assembled in the manner as taught by the Applicants.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
